SPEAKERS

Virginia Leichthy is a retired teacher, associate pastor, and spiritual director from northwest Indiana. She is married to Philip who is also a retired teacher and pastor. They have four children and seven grandchildren. She and Philip find joy in walking with those who need a listening ear in their spiritual journey. When she isn't busy corralling her high-energy cat, Callie, Virginia enjoys gardening and woodworking.

Larissa Moore-Willard is a pastor, teacher, and a voice to push the Kingdom of God forward in Ohio, and surrounding states. She currently serves as Chairwoman of the Evana Network Board. She endeavors to teach and train up a people who are empowered to embrace their kingdom purposes which God has for their lives and their families. Larissa and her husband, Randy, live in Orrville, Ohio and are members of Dayspring Christian Fellowship.

Pam Bartholomew has been a partner in ministry at Dayspring with her husband, Jim, for a long, long time! A couple of years ago she resigned her day job and now she is available full-time for Jim and Jesus, not necessarily in that order. She is Mom to two, MIL to one, and Mimi to two crazy wonderful boys! Pam is growing into her identity as a warrior; she is in training to learn how to wield her weapons, primarily worship and joy and intercession, to take out the enemy and claim territory for the Kingdom.
